Universidad de Salamanca

Intensive Course in Salamanca, Spain

Bioethics and Human Rights. U.S. and Spanish Perspectives

Instructor: CWRU Dr. Nicole Deming

This 3-credit course will introduce advanced undergraduate and graduate students to theoretical and practical aspects of bioethics in a European context. Continental health professionals and bioethicists work in an environment that differs from the American context in three important dimensions: the political structure of their health care systems, the cultural influence of their religious histories, and the theoretical perspective of continental moral philosophy.
